Dear Parents,

Many of you are aware that buildings erected in the 1950's and 1960's used asbestos among their building supplies. Saint Ann's School was erected in the late 1950's and does have some asbestos material in it.

However, all of this was encapsulated many years ago. Our building is kept in good repair. To this end, it is inspected yearly and checked for proper maintenance. Environmental engineers do the inspection and make sure there is no exposure to any friable material.

Thank you

Sincerely,
